

ASSOCIATION OF DISCIPLE MUSICIANS

NEWSLETTER

JUNE 2018

It's not too late (at least by July 1) to register for this summer's ADM Conference which is being held on the campus of Oklahoma City University from Sunday evening, July 15, through noon on Friday, July 20. Your ADM organization encourages your support as we strengthen and rebuild our organizational efforts to provide annual conferences and opportunities for music professionals. ADM's goal has always been to elevate and improve the standard of music in the church, give musicians and worship leaders a forum for the exchange of ideas, and offer a variety of conference sessions and activities to educate and inspire those in attendance. You will find a wealth of ADM information and conference registration directions at our website, www.adm-doc.org. If you know of others who could benefit from ADM membership or conference attendance, please share this so easily by email.
